BOULDER, Col., Dec. 4.—Between 40 and 45 men were imprisoned in the cardinal tunnel, a property worked by the Fairview Mining company, by a fire that broke out in the workings today. The mine is 20 miles west of here.

Six rescue crews have left here for the scene. Mine officials said they feared the imprisoned men were unconscious from the heavy smoke that is pouring from the mouth of the tunnel and that has prevented workers who are not equipped with masks from entering.

INSPECTION TOUR RAINED OUT TODAY

Improvement Asked By Lynne On Approach To Warehouse

A tour of inspection of Water street and vicinity, scheduled for this morning by the Decatur city council, was rained out, but a new date probably will be set for the journey. The inspection planned by the council, followed a request made last night before the council by D. M. Lynne for improvement of the Water street approach to a new warehouse erected by the petitioner near the banks of the Tennessee river.

Mr. Lynne, who has extensive lumber holdings in North Alabama plans, it is said to assemble large quantities of materials at his warehouse and it is possible also that he will make further extensive improvements there. He has one or more large sawmills in Morgan County and could bring, by barge and rafts much additional timber to this point. The council planned to visit the site and decide what improvements would be necessary to aid Mr. Lynne in his development.

SEVERAL DECATUR OFFICIALS RAISED

Council Votes To Give Salary Boost To Employees

The salaries of the city clerk, chief of police and members of the police department were raised by the Decatur city council meeting in regular session last night.

The salary of E. W. Collier, city clerk will be $100 a year more under the new salary schedule, while the salary of Chief of Police C. M. Riggsbee was raised approximately $19 a month and the salaries of Patrolmen Bryant, Brazelton and Simmons were raised $10 a month.

The salaries of members of the fire department were raised sometime ago. The police department's pay scale now is said to rank above many cities of similar size and to compare favorably with the larger cities of the south.

A singular feature of the incident is the fact that all of the employees given a salary increase have been in the employ of the city for years and members of the council paid tribute to their work in voting the salary hikes.

PROHIBITION FLARE UP MAKES DRY LAW OUTSTANDING ISSUE

Both Wets and Dries To Form Lines For Impending Clash

TWO BIG LIQUOR RAIDS ARE MADE

Powerful Syndicate Is Smashed By Agents In New York

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Prohibition enforcement suddenly has taken its place among the outstanding public issues that are agitating Washington upon the eve of the convening of congress.

Aroused by the cumulative force of a long series of events, ranging from General Andrew's shake-up of the prohibition unit to a row over local enforcement methods in the national capital, both wets and dries again are coming into action for another round of the old debate over liquor.

On top of an attack by the dries on the present prohibition regime, two wet members of congress, today attempted to force a change one of them. Representative Dyer, republican stating he would ask the new congress for outright repeal of the Volstead act.

A large section of the dries are seeking to narrow down responsibility for the condition of which they complain, but they are not agreed upon the question of laying the blame directly on the doorstep of President Coolidge.

The Methodist board of temperance prohibition and public morals, today dissented from the round robin of complaint sent the President yesterday by a score of reform organizations, and Mrs. E. A. Boole, newly elected president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, called at the white house to assure Mr. Coolidge that the union would give him wholehearted support in his enforcement efforts.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Federal prohibition agents believe they have smashed the most powerful rum smuggling syndicate on the Atlantic coast, with the arrest of 19 men, including the alleged head of the ring, William Dyer, widely known sportsman and race-track owner. The syndicate they charge, bribed coast guardsmen lavishly with money and "wine, women and song," operated a fleet of 18 or more vessels off the coast and developed an elaborate system of control.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 6.—A train of liquor cars and trucks were captured and assorted whiskey, valued at approximately $30,000 was seized today near Bradentown, Fla., patrol inspectors here announced today. Four men were captured officers say, after a running pistol fight. They are being held in jail at Bradentown.

Crossword Suit Is Center Attraction On Cities' Streets

What is declared to be the original crossword suit is being worn today by I. Z. Moore, Albany Decatur negro, on the streets of the cities. Moore has attracted bystanders for several days in his unusual and original style for wintry days. Moore said this morning that he purchased samples from various stores and had them sewed over an old suit at the cost of $9.00. He said that additional samples were made into three quilts, thus proving the theory that it is the little things that count the most. The negro, a six footer of the old fashioned type, had aroused the curiosity of passers-by with the novelty of his idea.

WORLD COURT ONE OF LEADING ISSUES THE SENATE FACES

Treaty With Turkey Is Another Question To Be Settled

CONGRESS WILL OPEN MONDAY

Foreign Affairs Will Occupy Limelight During Session

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The world court and the treaty with Turkey are the principal subjects within the realm of foreign affairs that will await the attention of the new senate when it convenes next Monday.

Both face some rather determined opposition, but administration leaders are confident that the required two-thirds majority for favorable action on each can be obtained.

Under an agreement entered into by the senate at the special session last March, the question of American adherence to the World Court will be taken up on December 17, but there appears now to be little prospect that it will be pushed to a conclusion at that time. No definite date for consideration of the League treaty with Turkey has been fixed but President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg desire early action and since Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee is in accord with their view, this matter may be disposed of before there is a vote on the world court.

Whether the question of American recognition of the Russian Soviet government is to come in for any extensive senate discussion is not clear. Senator Borah is hopeful that there soon will be a change in state department policy on this matter, but has made no announcement of any intention to press his resolution which would place the senate on record as favoring recognition.

Besides the World Court and League Treaty, one other treaty, an extradition with Turkey, is pending before the senate and four others are before the foreign relations committee. Making up these four are treaties with Great Britain guaranteeing American rights in mandate territories, the Cameroons, East Africa and Togoland, and an international treaty for the suppression of the circulation of obscene publications.

Two other treaties negotiated since the last session are to be submitted by the president early in the session.

You are promised, find comfort if you can, that gasoline prices will go up to help the deserving oil stock owner.

JUNIOR CHAMBER IDEA MEETS WITH FAVOR THURSDAY

Handful Of Men Enter First Informal Session

FORMATION IS NOT IN DOUBT

Other Cities' Success Is Pointed To By Attendants

What is believed will become one of the strongest organizations in the cities was inaugurated in a movement Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A., looking toward the beginning of a Junior Chamber of Commerce for Albany-Decatur. A handful of enthusiasts gathered for the discussion of plans leading toward a later organization of the young men of the cities.

Called at the request of a few of the older men, the meeting was called to order at 7:30 o'clock in the main offices of the Y. M. C. A. G. J. Randolph was selected as temporary chairman of the meeting and directed a discussion of the purposes and aims of the body.

Attention was called to the work which has been accomplished in other cities by the junior organization. The constitution of the Birmingham club was offered and a committee of three was appointed to draw up the constitution by which the local body will be governed. This committee will go into session Monday of the coming week and be ready for a report by Wednesday, which date has been set for the second meeting of junior chamber advocates. A minimum of ten and a maximum of fifteen will be called to attend the first regular session on Wednesday at 7 o'clock. These men will in all probability be regarded as the charter members of the organization.

The body went on record as favoring an advisory committee to be composed of the older progressive business men of the towns, the committee to be appointed by the Kiwanis club of Albany-Decatur, the committee to be chosen either from the ranks of the club or from the outside, a great many advocates of the junior body formation not being in the ranks of Kiwanis.

A spirit of enthusiasm and a desire to aid in the building of our cities pervaded the Thursday evening meeting. The young men are not starting.

Tricking the meter will become a costly pastime, under the provisions of an ordinance adopted by the Decatur city council last night. The ordinance provides heavy penalties in case of conviction of defendants for having played tricks on their electric light measures.

Householders also are made responsible for the safety of the meter in their homes and the ordinance provides for a heavy fine or even a jail sentence for tampering with the measurers of juice.

LA FOLLETTE ISSUE STILL BOTHERSOME

G. O. P. Leaders Troubled By Attitude Of Insurgent

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—With the senate republican conference called for tomorrow and the LaFollette issue still troubling party leaders, the pre-convening atmosphere of the new congress today was keyed up for the gavel's fall on Monday.

Republican leaders in the senate still faced an uncertain situation in their efforts to have the party conference tomorrow, recognize, without issue, the republicanism of Senator-elect, LaFollette of Wisconsin.

Senator Butler, of Mass., chairman of the republican national committee, is one of the senators apparently not yet convinced that the plan of Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the majority floor leader and other party leaders to treat the Wisconsin leader as a party regular, is warranted by his speeches in his recent campaign.

Senator LaFollette, whose campaign utterances are regarded by some senators as constituting attacks on the republican party, has declined to indicate whether he proposes to accept the invitation to attend the conference tomorrow.

In the session ahead, the question of amendment of the senate rules to prevent filibusters is one that probably, at least, will occupy many hours of debate and vice President Dawes already is on the ground prepared to carry forward his fight for such a change.

Since his arrival yesterday, however, he has declined to make any statement regarding his plans. One of the first persons called upon by the Vice President was Oscar Underwood, democratic senator from Alabama, whose proposal for a change in senate rules was introduced at the special senate session last March after Mr. Dawes had launched his reform fight in his inaugural speech.

Whether either the Underwood resolution, or another sponsored by Senator Jones, republican, Washington, to shorten senate debate can receive a favorable vote in the rule committee for report to the senate is doubted both by republican and democratic leaders.

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 4.—Two persons were killed, more than a score injured and from 50 to 100 families made homeless by a tornado which struck Yazoo City early today, according to a message received by state headquarters of the Red Cross from Mrs. R. L. Thornton, representative at Yazoo City.

The tornado whipped into the city from the northwest, leaving a trail of destruction in its wake.

PADUCAH, Ky., Dec. 4.—Messages reaching here indicated that a windstorm of cyclonic proportions struck near Kuttana, Ky., at nine o'clock this morning. Roofs were reported blown off, houses and a church demolished. No information regarding deaths or injuries was available at that time.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The force of the storm which raged yesterday along the coast of New York, New Jersey and the New England states and lashed the Southern Atlantic coast earlier in the week was spent today. Three lives were lost, several persons were injured and much property damage was done.

Eight men were rescued from two barges that broke loose in the New York bay and drifted out to sea. Three vessels had to seek refuge off Block Island, where the submarine S-51 sank.

Several structures at Coney Island were demolished and one building torn from its piles and drifted almost to Sandy Hook before marine police took it in tow.

BAPTISTS ENJOY ANNUAL MEETING

Pep Gathering Is Attended By 100 Churchmen

Over 100 men gathered at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening as guests of the Central Baptist church at an annual banquet, the ladies of the church serving a splendid repast. The affair today was declared by Baptists to have been one of the most enjoyable and enthusiastic of the entire church year.

W. R. Spight, toastmaster, called upon various churchmen for talks at the conclusion of the meal, all responding in a spirit of good will and expressing a desire to see the church move further toward the front during the coming year. Principal among the speakers were: Revs. W.P. Reeves, E. F. Olive, C. C. Davison and B. P. Collier.

Girls May Attend Inaugural Ball

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 3.—Alabama will launch its appreciation contest in the Stone Mountain Memorial coin campaign within the next few days, it was announced today from state headquarters here.

Indications are that many girls from over the state will participate and the race to decide the two winners from each county who will attend the grand ball or reception to be given by Governor Brandon, will be a lively one, officials say.

It is also announced that those wishing to take part, should notify their local chairman or communicate with state headquarters in cities where chairmen have not been appointed.

According to plans of the contest as made public, any Southern girl, married or single taking interest between the ages of 15 and 25 may be entered in the contest and the two girls making the best all round records in a county will be declared the county winners.

The first girl will receive from the governor of the state a gold mounted lavalier coin stamped with a number setting it apart and making it different from all other coins. The second girl will receive a silver mounted lavalier coin similarly stamped. With each lavalier coin will go a certificate of appreciation signed by the governor and bearing the seal of the state.

On or before December 10, Governor Brandon will give at the Governor's mansion a grand ball or reception in honor of the two prize-winning girls from each county. These functions will be surrounded with all of the dignity and distinction of the higher social tradition of the south. A committee named by the governor, and unknown to any but the governor, will select the two girls who are most representative and typical of the state, taking into all consideration not only the element of personal beauty, culture and charm, but also the work they did and the results they accomplished in selling coins.

On January 19, 1926, the birth anniversary of General Robert E. Lee the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association will bring to Atlanta the two prize winning girls from each state, and will give in their honor a great all southern Confederate costume ball. This will be the most brilliant social function ever held in the south. Invitation will be extended to the governors of

Do everything in a rational manner is a mighty good slogan, but that slogan does not apply soon after the Christmas fever takes hold of the populace.

There has been more than one good man sent to the bottom because public opinion was swayed in the wrong direction, yet even with the percentage it is safe to say that public opinion is often right when corporations, establishments and courts are wrong. There is something close to the pulse of public opinion that detects the difference in right and wrong and it cannot be denied.

What is royalty coming to these days? See by the papers that the prince of Denmark suffered himself to be beaten in the back by a farmer when the former was attacked with acute lumbago. In olden times the Prince would have ordered the farmer to beat him in the back and then have ordered that the farmer have his head cut off for obeying the command. Royalty should always keep aloof, they are the immortal of mortals.

Folks are getting a little anxious over the failure to begin the Shrine drive for the building of an additional wing to the Benevolent hospital. People on the outside are not aware of the activity on the inside and cannot come to any successful conclusion that the Shriners are preparing for their drive. We can see a reason for postponing the drive with all the other activities at the present time and the people being called upon to shell out in many other ways. This Shrine drive has been coming a long time, it is true, but we have not lost any confidence in the organization and feel that just as soon as the membership can get footloose for a few moments that the drive will open. Shriners, we are backing you to the limit, get on your horses, let's start that long deferred race.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT, A REQUISITE TO CITY BUILDING

For the past two weeks The Daily has been publishing a small item on the front page, down at the bottom in the corner, calling the attention of the people to the assets which are to be found here. We have published this item daily in the hope that people of the cities may be stirred with an ever-growing faith in their cities and in the hope that outsiders looking for a location in the southland may chance upon Albany-Decatur and gain a line on the prospects here for future growth.

There are more reasons than one why a man will stay in any town. Don't think that a man remains in one place all his life because he sees an opportunity for amassing wealth. Naturally self-preservation is the first law of nature, but there are just lots of fellows who have remained in a place because they had faith in that town or in that community. They were sold on the location and the folks and though money to the credit of the bank account grew very slowly, they continued in business always looking toward the light ahead that promised not only wealth for themselves, but a realization of the deal which they had pictured through the years as coming true in their particular cities.

Such a condition might be applied locally, in some cases. There are men in business who have not reached the degree of success which they believe they should have reached, but they are sold on the town and on the people. One feature of Albany-Decatur people which will make them outstanding in the years to come is the loyalty to their towns and to their location. Things do not always go so well on the inside, but to the outside they present a solid phalanx, they are heart and soul for the community.

ties and they preach a spirit of good will and the final growth of 50,000 people at this point. It is bred in them. Some few exceptions may be found, it is true, there are among our citizenship those who will go to other cities, talk with other citizens and tell them that these towns are not what they thought they should be, but such a malady is not common. We would be far better off without such impositions marching around with the stamp of Albany-Decatur citizenship planted on their features and on their business cards.

The Albany-Decatur of today is not the Albany-Decatur of the future by any means. Such a prediction is not dependent upon any gigantic result in the Shoals district either. We have watched the Shoals situation for the past eight years and we have not seen any tremendous advantage come from it, but these towns have continued to grow, expansion has been general. A great many things remain to be done before these cities will reach the 50,000 goal set, but the primary requisite is already noticeable in the spirit of the people. Confidence is a distinct community asset and we feel free in saying that 99 per cent of the people in these towns have that confidence. We are going to continue to grow regardless of outside influences and forces.

PROHIBITION HOWLS ARE LACKING IN DEFINITENESS

Publications over the nation fairly screamed a breath of scandal against the present administration, Thursday, when the report of twenty-six reform organizations was made known to the nation. The reformers reported that the lack of law enforcement is due solely to a lack of support from the president and to rotten appointments made to more or less lukewarm "dry" campaigners. Secretary Mellon characterized the indictment sent to President Coolidge as "lacking in definiteness" and though The Daily is not in the least Republican, it cannot see fit to lay the blame at the door of the President. Coolidge is but a cog in a vast machine which must grind on day after day, listening to criticism, gaining a few compliments and saving this nation against the continued inroads of foreign people who would like to drag the American standards in the dirt, though they are afraid to make their wishes known.

The blame for "bad conditions," of which Mr. Mellon spoke, cannot rest on the president's shoulders, the blame cannot even be placed on the administration officials, or on the state forces. Who is to blame can be answered easily and without fear of contradiction. The American people are to blame for this so-called lack of law enforcement, backing the Eighteenth amendment. Just so long as the American people buy contraband goods, just so long will the foreign nations ship that "commodity" into this country, just that long will distillers keep distilling and bootleggers keep up their daily deliveries.

American people smile at their own children in the consumption of liquor. They provide their children with the money with which they may purchase liquor, of course a great deal of them do not understand that such will be bought, nevertheless it is bought and when the child comes home around three o'clock in the morning, loaded to the gills, why the enraged parents blame it on a lack of law enforcement? Some parents merely view the situation from an angle that the child is sowing wild oats and that there is no remedy for such a condition. But the violently opposed people blame it on the administration. It starts with the blame being placed on city and county officers, it spreads to the state and then twenty-six reform organization representatives gather and declare that the president is big enough to accept the responsibility and therefore should cheerfully bear his burden. There is no need for fooling yourself that the blame can be laid to other than the American home.

Within the years since the war the American nation has grown from a recognized power to a supreme power, a power feared, even hated, by other nations. Much of this condition can be attributed to the enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, the Volstead act. A powerful people are a thinking people, a contented people, a happy people and that amendment, the law which has been the center of so much criticism, has probably been one of the greatest factors in the rise of the American government as well as the people who abide beneath the protecting folds of the Stars and Stripes.

Action such as was taken by the twenty-six reform organization representatives is not an aid to the nation, there is no help which can be gained from their report, that we can see, it stands as a detriment in the path of law enforcement. Just such actions, such divisions, in the law enforcement forces is what causes the law violator and the whiskey interests to jump up and down with glee. They see a rift in the clouds, they see an opportunity for again bringing the old issue of John Barleycorn to life again. They are the happiest over this report which has been sent to President Coolidge, not the dry forces. The law enforcement advocates are making enemies within their own ranks when they have enough on the outside to take care of all their time.

The prohibition law is a great law, a worthy law, it has transformed shoeless, foodless, threadbare children into bright, happy students in our public schools. It has caused men to consider moves they make whereas before the prohibitory liquor measures a great many of them were never in condition to consider more than another glass of beer. Talk of your increase in crime statistics, say that the youth of today is far worse than the youth of other years, if you please. Your opinion is your own, but it does not prevent us from taking issue with you and telling you that you are wrong. We cling to our former conviction that crime statistics are available now to a greater degree, the news agencies are far more accurate, thousands more of edicts have appeared on our legislative books. That is the cause for the increase in crime and not the passage of the Eighteenth amendment nor a so-called disrespect for the word of God. Speak of a lack of church attendance and you are again proved to be mistaken, for ministers will tell you that their congregations have grown. Look at the statistics from any angle you wish and you will find that prohibition with all its faults have been one of the greatest factors in the history of the world as well as in the history of American progress. You may speak of the national scandal which is following in the wake of the letter delivered to President Coolidge, but you have no conclusive facts to back what you may say. There is no argument in favor of whiskey, there never was and there never will be. Liquor is gone from this nation and it will stay gone. The American people are far-sighted enough to foresee the conditions which must return with the return of whiskey.

We maintain that no lack of law enforcement is responsible for the consumption of beverage of alcoholic content in this nation, the people are to blame. We are happy that the United States citizens have seen fit to adopt such a law and we believe that the American people are going to stand back of it. Had the majority not wished prohibition, the law would have never gone into effect. Prohibition has proved itself in an abundance of wealth, a condition of comfort, an era of sensibility and in the building of a God-fearing people. You cannot believe otherwise once you study the facts and the agencies behind such facts.

ing. Gordon Pirie first said he killed his boy friend, George Nye, to rob him, throwing the body under the bed of his (Pirie's) sister.

CHANGING HIS STORY, he said he killed Nye because he boasted of his conquest of a sixteen year old high school girl in whom the murderer was interested. Bootleg whiskey and modern ideas of "morals" explain that crime.

HAVE YOU HIGH BLOOD pressure? Dr. MacDonald of Ontario says experiments with a liver extract have shown remarkable results in "pressure" treatment.

Mankind is forever finding cures for disease and developing new diseases. Blood pressure, curse of old age, and punishment of unwise living, tires the heart, shortens life.

The arteries, losing elasticity, become narrower, and the heart must work harder to force the blood through. A skillful doctor knows that by diet, otherwise he must not reduce the pressure too suddenly or too much. A cure for that dangerous foe of old age would be most welcome.

THE FRENCH DECIDE to print seven thousand five hundred million more paper francs. Briand, prime minister, admits that his country faces a currency crisis, and asks the allies to help by supporting the franc.

"Seven and a half billion francs" sounds big, but is really not much. With recent treatment at the hands of their creditors and former allies, the French will absorb that "inflation" easily.

Again exchange gamblers are warned that selling France, or her money short is a dangerous business.

RUDYARD KIPLING is dangerously ill of pneumonia, may die, he can find comfort in the fact that he made his mark while he lived. His verses about the flag of England, entitle him to a permanent place in the affection of Englishmen. And his jungle stories, stimulating the imagination, have added to the happiness of millions of children. That is work worth while.

SECRETARY HOOVER offers the common sense suggestion that no United States money be spent to finance European schemes for gouging the United States consumers. In consequence, high finance has killed a loan of forty million dollars requested by German potash producers, anxious to organize the potash market on a basis that would mean a cost of many millions extra per year to the United States.

THE BRITISH have moved out of Cologne, restoring control of that city to its German owners, and releasing for German use 1,400 houses used by the Britishers ever since the war and badly needed by homeless Germans.

The British are as glad of the evacuation as are the Germans.

Mystery Poison Claims 4th Victim

(Associated Press)

EAST ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4.—A mysterious poison, which physicians and investigators have been unable to identify, claimed its fourth victim and the third member of one family with death here today of Miss Mildred Kuhlman, 21, of Maryville, Ill. Miss Kuhlman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuhlman, died October 24 and November 6 respectively.

The family including a 12 year old boy, was taken ill in October from what physicians at first believed was the result of drinking milk from cows that had eaten a poisonous weed. A neighbor was similarly stricken and died. An examination of Mrs. Kuhlman's stomach revealed no trace of poison.

An autopsy was ordered on the body of Mildred Kuhlman in a further effort to solve the mystery.

Charges Against Cashin Dismissed

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 4.—Upon admission of prosecution that it could not prove its case statutory charges against John Cashin, Chicago funeral man, arrested after the death of Mrs. Florence R. Hood, Birmingham, Ala., society woman, were dismissed in municipal court today.

Cashin registered at a hotel with Mrs. Hood. She drank poison used as a cleaning fluid after she returned to her room from a party in Cashin's apartment in another hotel. Cashin's attorneys sought to have the complaint quashed on the grounds it was drawn improperly.

The prosecuting attorney interrupted with a statement the charge was placed as a formality, which would permit holding of Cashin until after the inquest and that the charge could not be proven.

DAWES NOW FACING TEST OF HIS CAREER

Holds Unique Place In History Of The High Office

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—In his role of crusader for reform of the rules of the Senate, Vice President Charles G. Dawes will occupy at the approaching session of congress a position unique in the history of his high office.

Most vice presidents of the past have been content to merely preside over the senate without undertaking to influence the affairs of that august body, but Mr. Dawes with characteristic vigor threw down the gauntlet in his inaugural address last March 4, and since has taken his fight to the country.

Since he has neither voice nor vote in senate affairs, except in the event of a tie ballot, there is no small amount of speculation as to how he will proceed further with his campaign. His idea has been that if the people could get the facts about the rule permitting a one man filibuster they would bring sufficient pressure to bear to have that rule changed.

At the congress assemblies there is no indication, however, that there has been any material change in the senate sentiment on this point and leaders on both sides say frankly there is little likelihood that any effort at modification can make headway during the new session.

Opponents of any change in the rules, republicans as well as democrats have not forgotten the lecture which the vice president read to the senate in the presence of the president the supreme court, the house and the diplomatic corps and the abrupt manner in which he swept aside the time-honored custom of sweeping in new senators in small groups.

Administration leaders during the brief special session of the senate last March were able to hold off any open and vitriolic attacks on Mr. Dawes from the floor such as some Senators had planned, but they expect some effort at the "hazing" of the vice president during the next few months.

The gulf which was opened between the vice president and some senators on March 4 has been widened by the campaign he has conducted during the summer in the states or some senators who come up for reelection next year.

These senators naturally have not taken kindly to this campaign and they can be counted upon to oppose the vice president in his rules fight with all of the vigor and influence at their command.

Mr. Dawes has some support in the senate itself for a modification of the rule under which a single senator at the close of a session can block legislation or even at any time in the session long delay a final vote by means of a filibuster.

Senator Curtis of Kansas, the republican floor leader, and Senator Underwood of Alabama, a former democratic leader, favor a change in the rules, but they concede that there is an overwhelming sentiment in the senate against any change that will

RHINELANDER CASE GOES TO THE JURY

(Associated Press)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 4.—The suit for annulment of marriage brought by the wealthy young Leonard Kip Rhinelander against his negro wife, Alice Beatrice Jones, went to the jury shortly before noon today.

Out of the mass of testimony, much of it conflicting, taken during the three weeks of trial, the jury was charged by Justice Morchausser to find answers for seven questions propounded to it.

On the jury's findings on these put a check on the right of Senators to speak as long and as often as they may desire on any subject.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

questions will be based the Justice's decision whether or not an annulment shall be granted. If granted his decision will act merely as an interlocutory decree, to be finally reviewed and passed upon by the next regular term of Westchester county supreme court.

As the case went to the jury both opposing counsel expressed confidence as to the outcome.

The jury's decision on the seventh point, upon which it must pass is: "Did the plaintiff exhibit with the plaintiff after he had obtained full knowledge that the defendant was of colored blood?"

If the jury makes decision favorable to Rhinelander on the first six points, but answers "yes" to the seventh question, the case will be upset.

Cy Kology says the gals on the bathin' beach mus' think e'rybody's from Missouri.

The world may owe you a living but you can't put the collection in the hands of an agency.

The nexton the program will be the sad song of the sock, entitled, "Oh, cleanse me, cleanse me, and I will be willing to hang."

Oh, boy, with a keen, high-toned, stylish dresser. Absolutely could not be beat had a perfect shape with well-rounded corners and graceful lines, a superb legs that always attracted attention.

There was one drawback, though. Every morning my collar button invariably rolled beneath it.

President Coolidge is reported to advocate the use of suspenders. He always did believe in placing responsibility where it belongs.

The girl who is willing to take a joke need never be an old maid.

He held her hand in his own. As he bent down to kiss her his fingers tightened their hold until it almost hurt. He was a gentleman and he wouldn't have hurt her pretty fingers for the world, but he had already lost one fraternity pin that way.

Capitol's dome, reported to be in bad condition, to say nothing of a number of domes beneath it.

The new gloves have fancy embroidery on the back. If you have a cold carry a handkerchief.

Off With The Smoked Glasses
Am I my brother's keeper?
Then let me keep the while
His admiration and his love,
His laughter and his smile.
For in this world of pretty ways
And selfish hearts there loom
Too many brother's keepers who Would keep us all in gloom.

Practice makes perfect, but this does not apply to the men who talk too much.

Ever hear of the fellow who was so dumb he looked for eggs in the cuckoo clock?

Boarding house lady (who is very fond of using slang)—That soup is the cat's meow.
The Boarder (eying the hair he found in it)—Yes with the whiskers thrown in.

Every woman has two ears and only one tongue. "Ain't nature wonderful?"

What would happen to some rich people if they would suddenly lose all their money.

Don't stay in one job too long, says an efficiency expert. It ought to depend upon the job suppose it is the presidency.

Frankness of the modern girl has at least accomplished one good work. We no longer hear women's underthings spoken of as unmentionables.

The gardener trims the rose trees to improve the blooms; do you suppose we are trimmed for a similar reason?

When those Ford airships stall it will be lots of fun to get out and crank them.

"Understand that Jones went out on a party the other day and got ptomaine poisoning."

"Do you suppose he left the food in tin too long?"

"Well it was laying in the back seat of his Ford all afternoon."

Diner—"I want some raw oysters. They must not be too large or too small, not too salty, and not too soft. They must be cold and I am in a hurry for them."

Waiter—"Yes, sir. Will you have them with or without pearls?"

A clap pipe has been found to be the handiest for the all-round use. One convenient feature is that when you drop it, you never have to pick it up.

Bow legs are a sign of courage, says Alexander the Great, Cromwell, Napoleon and bulldogs. He advises that bulldogs and bow-legged girls be petted with caution.

Note from the Heckville Bugle: "Our distinguished citizen, Colonel Guzzler, the Civil War Veteran, recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage. The colonel tells some interesting stories of a great conflict."

None is perfect: when a man outgrows fairies and Santa Claus he still believes in statistics.

"What was the name of the last station we stopped at, mother?"
"I don't know. Be quiet. I'm working out a cross-word puzzle."
"It's a pity you don't know the name, mother, because little Oscar got out of the train there."

His idea of bliss is Eden filled with apples and women.

"John," his wife asked when he got home at 3 o'clock in the morning, "where have you been?"
"In conference," he replied, and she hadn't the heart to ask him what had been accomplished.

Early training means much and he wonders what kind of a rattle Ford played with as an infant.

Well, America was slow to go across; she can't kick if the others are slow in coming across.

SPORTS

Sport Writer Is Generous To Souheiland In Placing Men On The All-American

Picking southern men on the All-American eleven is something that few sport writers consider when the end of the gridiron season is at hand. They had much rather confine their picks to the north east and west, usually being forgetful that the lands south of the Virginia line produce any men of that calibre.

Such has not been the case in the pick of Feg Murry. That writer sees in southern players, stars who are just beginning to shine. On his first All American he picks Pooley Hubert, Crimson general, to race alongside Grange, Oberlander and Nevers. He likewise draws Mahan, West Virginia at a guard. The remainder of his first team is placed principally in the east and middle west.

On his second team pick he places Buckler of Alabama, Flournoy of Tulane and Plinsky of Georgetown. Third team choice finds Lowe, Tennessee, Goldstein, Florida and Levy of Tulane. Decidedly more generous than other writers, has been Mr.

Murry and the thanks of the south land goes to him for his recognition.

Within the next few years Southern men will appear regularly on the All American pick. Southern teams are gradually rising to the heights of gridiron honors and the time is not far away when southern victories in the east and west will not be heralded as intersectional triumphs, it will all come in the course of a day.

In picking Hubert as the field general of the team Murry says: "The quarterback position was the hardest of all to choose. There is no way of proving that Hubert of Alabama is a greater player than Friedman of Michigan but I choose Hubert because he is the greatest player in the South, a giant at running interference as well as carrying the ball, an accurate passer a wonder at backing the defense of the line. He has been the backbone of the championship team for three years, thoroughly outplaying the great Wycoff when they met and is easily the best field general in the south."

of the Southside Baptist church will entertain the girls of the classes at a chicken supper this evening at the church. An attendance contest has just closed, the boys losing the contest.

FALKVILLE TEAM TO BE BANQUETED

Town Shows School Appreciation For Good Play

When it comes to appreciation for a service done, hunt up the people of the city of Falkville.

The Falkville high school team, defeated but a single time in two years will be banqueted Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock at the high school building, according to information given here today by Dr. J. B. Elliot, one of the closest followers of sport in the entire county.

The Falkville eleven under the able ability and experienced teaching of Coaches A. B. Burdick and "Flivver" Ford has suffered but one reverse in two years of play, often going out of their class in tackling hard teams. At the banquet on Saturday night, the faculty, members of the team and coaching staffs and the board of trustees will be the honor guests. The town of Falkville is playing host. Program for the evening has not been announced, Dr. Elliot declaring that folks in that section are so busy with other matters that he has been unable to find out just what is going to happen.

Men aboard the Falkville championship special include: Captain Howell Long, G. Long, Tomlinson, Vest, C. Summerford, T. Morris R. Morris McGlathery, Patterson, Norton, Hodge Robertson, Freeman, Phillips, Gullin, Whisenant.

Following is the record for the past year.

Falkville 46; Moulton 0.
Falkville 6; Y. M. C. A. 0.
Falkville 21; Oneonta 0.
Falkville 7; Y. M. C. A. 3.
Falkville 27; St. Bernard 0.
Falkville 7; Rogersville 6.
Falkville 0; Reform 6.
Falkville 14; Russellville 7.
